TEACHING THE FAITH

Renewal in Religious Education in the Philippines

MARIA LUCIA C. NATIVIDAD
ISBN 978-621-426-019-5

©2018 / Paper Cover /
288 pp. / PHP245.00

Religious education has to effectively communicate the essentials of the Christian faith by directly relating faith to the actual living out of the faith. Integration, as an approach in religious education, highlights faith's experiential nature and its direct relevance to the Christian way of living.

PHP165.00

This attractive book explores the treasures of the Catholic faith from new and creative perspectives. The presentation follows the “spiritual journey” of Christians on their road to Emmaus as the context for answering frequently asked questions about the Catholic faith. Luke’s beautiful “journey narrative,” so cherished by Christians, becomes a perfect paradigm for discerning how Jesus as the face of God’s mercy is revealed to us today – right in the midst of our questions, disillusionments, anxieties, hopes and dreams.

With the present and even-worsening and varying “world-views” on man, a book in defense of man’s noble and high beginnings and destiny is another welcome development... The book successfully underscored and put into the limelight again man’s divinely granted role of making sure that human life, the environment and nature, as part of the created world, are treated, utilized, sustained, explored, and developed after the mind and plans of their Origin and Source.

CATHOLIC BOOK AWARDS BEST BOOK IN THEOLOGY*

This book outlines the theological principles that ground a contemporary view of the Church in the Philippines and specifies the challenges it has to face if it is to be Christ's credible witness in the world today. Faithful to tradition in the spirit of Vatican II and yet critical of the Church's tendency to turn in on itself, this work calls on the Philippine Church to shift its priorities for mission by recovering the original simplicity of the gospels and not be stymied by an obsessive preoccupation with rules and rubrics, and like Jesus, go to the peripheries to bring the promise of God's liberating presence.

AWARDS BEST BOOK IN THEOLOGY*

Norlan Julia's beautiful reflection upon priesthood, drawing on the theological wisdom of Europe and Asia, marks a 'late flowering' of one important tradition – the pastoral anthropology of the German Jesuit Karl Rahner – and the seedlings of a second – an Asian theology which is dialogical, prophetic, and responsive to the 'Spirit-borne Word.' His confident and lucid mastery of two contrasting world styles, without denouncing the one or idealizing the other, is a 'love letter' to the Church in Asia, and a sign of hope for those called to serve her.

In this collection of powerful addresses, Tagle focuses on three fundamental dimensions of Christian experience: authentic spiritual worship of Jesus in and beyond Eucharist, our communion in the word of God, and the mission each one of us has to tell the story of Jesus based on our experience of him. Cardinal Tagle combines biblical narration and personal experience with sound theological reflection so that the story of Jesus becomes a story of love that leads to hope for the poor, for the church, and for the life of the entire world.

The essence of living out a Eucharistic Spirituality is what inspires Earnest to write this book. He challenges us to translate our attendance at Sunday obligations into genuine witnessing of God's love. This, he suggests, is possible if we first allow God to redeem us and make us whole. Then and only then can we be true followers of Christ who offer ourselves as bread to be broken and shared to feed and nourish the hunger of the world today.

“Drawing from stories and personal experiences, Fr. Bacani invites us to see our relationship with the Sacred as learning to dance gracefully in good times and in bad, in sickness and in health, in the middle of the fighting and at the end of it. He challenges the readers to consider the missionaries’ own life and engagements – their inner struggles with power and sexuality, their delicate relationship with local cultures and peoples, their changing views of cosmos and creation, their sometimes ambivalent relationship with the poor and the socially excluded as potent areas where the Divine invites us to dance in graceful liberation and freedom.”

The very fact that already there exist six volumes full of FABC's official teachings itself is a testimony to the vigour and vitality of the Catholic Episcopate in Asia as a whole. We should not forget that in these six volumes one finds not only a sort of historical record of the doings and teachings of the Federation of Asian Bishops' Conferences during the last 44 years, but they also bear witness to the Asian Episcopal solidarity. Perhaps, with the Holy Father's special encouragement these FABC documents can now be used not only to teach our Asian Catholics but they can also be put into practice with greater intensity in our local churches.

Diarmuid O'Murchu holds high the millions on the margins of the church who honor Jesus but feel they don't fit in because of an alternative vision or minority status resulting from race, ethnicity, social standing or sexual orientation. It is a gift of the "Pope Francis effect," an inevitable drive to reach out and bring in, the next step in a universal movement toward spiritual wholeness.

The Women's Bible Commentary is a trusted, classic resource for biblical scholarship, written by some of the best feminist scholars in the field today. This twentieth anniversary edition features brand new or thoroughly revised essays to reflect newer thinking in feminist interpretation and hermeneutics. This commentary rings modern critical methods to bear on the history, sociology, anthropology, and literature of the relevant time periods to illuminate the context of these biblical portrayals and challenges readers to new understandings.

Pope Francis said in Evangelii

Gaudium that "the homily cannot be a form of entertainment like those presented by the media, yet it does need to give life and meaning to the celebration. It is a distinctive genre, since it is preaching situated within the framework of a liturgical celebration." (n. 1380). This Directory from the Congregation for Divine Worship offers practical suggestions and answers the questions that were born from the Synod on the Word of God about the place of the homily in liturgy and as a means of bringing the people of God closer to scripture and the teaching of the Church.

AWARDS BEST BOOK IN THEOLOGY & LITURGY*

"Ang isa sa mga hayag na ritwal ng mga Mahal na Araw ay ang prusisyon. Dito ay nabubuhay ang mga lansangan kapag iniligid ang mga imahen at mga sagisag ng mga huling araw ng ating Panginoong Hesukristo. Sa pamamagitan ng prusisyon, naipapahayag ng mga Pilipinong Katoliko ang kanilang pananampalataya kay Hesukristo, kaya nga mahalagang ang prusisyon ay makita bilang isang paraan ng pagkaunawa at pagdiriwang ng Misteryo Paskuwal. Sa diwang ito, isang malaking tulong ang aklat na ito, lalo na sa paghubog sa mga prusisyon at sa pakikiisa natin dito upang maging tunay na isang kilos ng pananampalataya at pagsamba, ayon sa Liturhiya ng Simbahan."

Your Greatest Gift for Your Greatest Love offers an overview of the essential psychological foundations that children need to possess in order to grow up healthy and well. It guides the parent on how to provide their children with the necessary “roots” from which they will be strong and resilient to face life. This will give them confidence as well to find “wings” from which they can take flight and pursue the path that they are destined for.
